MR. FLOYD E. BYRON

Principal

The Northern Light staff and the printing department of North Intermediate School have completed a yearbook that will be remembered for many years. They have worked hard to please everyone concerned, and deserve the thanks of all for a job well done. It is a record of the year 1956-57. In years to come you will have many opportunities to reflect and remember the "good old days", your teachers, friends, and activities. We hope you enjoy your Northern Light.

Floyd E. Byron

MRS. NAOMI M. MYERS

Elementary Principal

It is a real pleasure to wish each and everyone of you at North Intermediate continued success. May your journey through life be filled with interests of all sorts, and may many new opportunities be yours in the years ahead.

The Nine-A Party

North's ninth graders had their Nine-A Banquet on Monday, June 3, in the boys' gymnasium. After the dinner there was dancing in the girls' gymnasium and games in the boys' gymnasium. The dinner was sponsored by North's P.T.A. with Mrs. Frank Niederstadt as general chairman. Mrs. William Brussow was in charge of the banquet, Mrs. Curtis Lindfors headed the dining room and decorating committee. Mrs. Louis White was activities chairman, and Mrs. K. T. Starkweather greeted the guests.

Bones Those Of Stone Age Man?

Relics Unearthed Here Said 'Rare Archeological Find'

Two 14-year-old Saginaw boys have unearthed a "rare archeological find" of an early culture that dates back to 2,000 years B. C., the Stone Age of Man.

Dr. E. F. Greenman, head of the University of Michigan's Museum of Anthropology, yesterday investigated the sandy site west of Saginaw where the boys found the bones and relics.

"This find is a very important part of early Michigan history," he announced. He told the excited youths their discovery is "the first Old Copper site in Lower Michigan which has been carefully excavated and the bones found in a burial grave with copper implements."

ROGER PFEUFFER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Pfeuffer, 4415 Weiss, and his friend, Douglas Peacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Peacock, 503 North Granger, found the bones and relics Aug. 8, while looking for arrowheads in a sand ridge off St. Andrews Road, one-half mile south of Gratiot Road.

Dr. Greenman said he plans to arrange with property owners for permission to conduct an archeological field study of the area. Ira W. Butterfield of Bay City, president of the Michigan Archeological Society, agreed to cooperate with Dr. Greenman in the proposed study.

"This represents almost unquestionably the first use of metals in the world," Dr. Greenman asserted. The Old Copper period is when men first used copper for tools and weapons, he said.

Echoes of the "Echo

Creative Writing by Junior High Students

Flowers

Flowers are blooming everywhere,
Dancing in the morning air,
White and yellow, red and blue,
Shining in the morning dew—
Pansies dancing in the light
From the sun that shines so bright,
And the daisies smiling yet
Up toward a bright sunset.
Poppies bow their ruffled heads
Before they climb into their beds,
Morning glories on the wall
Close their eyes before nightfall,
Then moonflowers looking high
Raise their heads up to the sky.

Gloria Sherman Age 14

Spring

Spring is coming on its way,
All the children laugh and play,
They like spring as well as I—
I can tell by the sparkle in their eye.

In springtime I go swimming
And riding bikes around,
I also play volleyball
And play on the tennis ground.

Often I like to baby-sit
And take the baby for a walk,
Then I like to call on kids
And have a long, long talk.

I like spring and think it's nice,
I don't, then, fall and slip on ice.
Another thing I'm so glad for—
The temperature rises to seventy-four.

Alice Bartle Age 14

Christmas Day

Christmas Day is here at last,
The long, long waiting time is past.

The snow is with us now to stay,
The nights are cold, the sky is gray.

Out of the window you can see
Lights on the neighbor's Christmas tree.

You can smell from the tree the scent of pine—
Yes, Christmas is a happy time.

Karen Verhey Age 12

One and Only

He isn't gentle and never kind,
But still he's always on my mind.
He likes baseball, hockey, and good movies—
I guess he's liked them since he wore booties.
To him girls are dim
Yes— but I still love him.
When he passes alone or with a crowd,
I seem to float away on a cloud.
I like to watch him dance and clown
Or pretend he owns the whole of the town.
He's lots of fun and everyone likes him.
That is, all but me—yes, I love him.

Jan Glick Age 14

Deep Thoughts

For teacher's joy
I must employ
My senses to this task,

My brains confer
And then conjure
A jumbled thought at last

For history
And geography
Keep popping in between.

I hope but fast,
I finish at last
Writing poetry.

Carol Munck Age 12

Night Snow

Tonight as I drew back the shade and looked out of the window,
I watched our porch light's shining rays changing flakes to crystal.
The snowflakes floated down to earth as stars might float in space,
And twinkled as if each one had a glow upon its face.
The ground was also crystal-coated and twinkling silver-white
As snow came down to gently rest on earth, so soft and bright,
And night enclosed the world about in a deepest slumber—
But still the flakes came sleepily down, and still in countless number.

Echoes of the "Echo"

Creative Writing by Junior High Students

Just Look out the Window!

Today, they say, is the first day of spring,
But just look out the window!
Today the breeze should start to sing,
And move the robin on the wing,
But just look out the window!

Today the sun should use its power,
But just look out the window!
Then would come a very quick shower
To waken many a sleeping flower,
But just look out the window!

I'm afraid someone's made an awful mistake
'Cause just look out the window!
Someone must have mixed up a date,
But what we have we'll have to take
'Cause there's snow outside the window!

Gloria Jean Sherman Age 14

A Teenager's Dilemma

I am a boy beginning my teens,
Wear old tee shirts and dirty bluejeans;
I try to watch with all my might
The good programs on Sunday night—

The Roy Rogers show with Roy and his girl,
"It's a Great Life" with Denny and Earl,
Masquerade Party with Donald M. C.,
On "6" there is Lucy (which one will I see?)
At ten there is Hitchcock with all of his horror
With vampires and werewolves and murders galore,
And in the wee hours of the next day
There are the late movies, some sad and some gay.

But you should see me get up Monday morn,
All sleepy, bedraggled, and looking forlorn.
The men that plan the programs, you can plainly see,
Don't have young teenagers just like me.

Roger Pfeuffer Age 13

Wintertime

Wintertime brings lots of fun—
Skating, sledding for everyone,

Skiing, tobogganing in the clean, crisp air,
Sometimes falling without a care,

Hunters home with bear and deer—
Christmas fills the air with cheer.

Snow falls softly Christmas night,
North Star shines so very bright.

Tom Henderson Age 12

The Snow

The snow came gliding down like a sprinkling of soft white lace.
It was early morning.
There was not a sound
except the soft whirring whistle of the north wind.
Winter had painted the world
a beautiful new sparkling white.

The trees were bare except for the glistening coat of snow.
The bushes were of beautiful white rather than their usual coat of green.
The air was full of small patterns,
each one different and more beautiful than the others.

The ground was covered with a soft white blanket under which the leaves of the season before were settling down for their rest.
Mother Nature had performed another wonderful miracle.

Mary Bush Age 12

Christmas Holidays

Decorating the window bright
Are snowy figures dressed in white.
On the door in crimson red
Hangs Santa with his deer and sled.

While Mother in the kitchen bakes
Cookies of assorted shapes,
Expectant children gather there—
Christmas is tingling in the air.

Ellen Thompson Age 12

The Tricks of Jack Frost

Little Jack Frost was here last night
And painted the world a wonderland of white.

His frosty breath-marks are on the window-pane,
You would hardly recognize it as being the same.

The roof-tops look like they're covered with frosting
But, if they were, how much 'twould be costing!

This hearty little artist makes everything look just right
But oh, your poor nose when he takes a little bite!

Parent-Teacher Executive Board

The officers of North Intermediate's Parent-Teacher Association for the 1956-1957 school year were: President, Mrs. Ralph Whatley; vice-presidents, Mrs. Harold Karls, Mr. John Schmittgen, and Mr. John Parr; secretaries, Mrs. William Brussow and Mrs. Ernest Miller, and advisor, Mr. Floyd Byron.

The P. T. A. started off the school year on September 20 by holding a "Get-Acquainted Coffee Hour." At the October meeting a panel discussion was conducted. The panel consisted of Mrs. John B. Martin Jr., vice-president of the Michigan Congress of Parent-Teachers, Dr. Helen Tewes, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mr. John Parr, Mr. Stewart Kirchner, and Ann Ruhl. At this meeting past presidents and Mr. Case were honored.

On Halloween the P. T. A. sponsored a Halloween party which was enjoyed by the Junior High students.

Open-House was held in November and a bake sale netted a fine profit.

At the December meeting both parents and teachers were entertained by a Christmas program presented by instrumental and vocal music students.

The P. T. A. held their annual card party in January, and in February enjoyed a Founder's Day Smorgasbord. Fathers' night was held on March 21 and the fathers were addressed by Dr. Guy Hill of Michigan State University. An afternoon meeting was held on April 25, and during April the board entertained the mothers of prospective kindergartners at a tea. The last meeting of P. T. A. was on May 16, and the program consisted of the installation of the 1957-58 officers and a parade of fashions by the sewing classes.

One of the many contributions the P. T. A. made to the school was a generous contribution for the new basketball electric scoreboard.

Instrumental Music

The Instrumental Music Department is under the direction of Mr. Somerville. There are sixty-six Band members this year and fifty-six in the Orchestra.

Two concerts have been given by the combined groups: the Winter Concert in January and the Spring Concert in May.

The Band accompanied the vocal music groups for a Christmas program, and the Orchestra presented a concert on May 17 for all elementary children from Fuerbringer, Stone, Herig, and John Moore Schools.

School Activities

The Vocal Music Department

The Vocal Music Department consists of the Ninth Grade Choir, the Eighth Grade Chorus, (these groups meet in regular class), the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Grade Glee Clubs, the Clef Climbers (a group of girls who are chosen by audition), and the Boys' Quintet (James Barris, Robert Ditz, Richard Borchard, Tom Cousineau, Keith Mulholland) which meet at noon. They are under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Twietmeyer.

At Thanksgiving the Ninth Grade Choir sang at assembly. The Eighth Grade Chorus and the Ninth Grade Choir combined with the Band to present the Christmas assembly.

The Vocal Music Department presented a Spring Concert and the funds were used to purchase new choir robes.

The Ninth Grade Choir put on the Easter assembly and also a radio broadcast.

The Student Council

The Student Council is made up of the presidents from each of the other councils in the school. The object of the Council is to promote good citizenship, conduct all elections, record honor-points and honor and merit rolls, take charge of the noon movies, Friday dances, and all school parties.

Miss Struthers heads the Student Council.

The Presidents' Council

The Presidents' Council is sponsored by Miss Faist. The duty of this council is to boost good citizenship and scholarship at North. This council also has charge of the sale of the yearbook.

The Vice-Presidents' Council

The Vice-Presidents' Council worked during the year to further the Junior Red Cross here at North. They filled sixty boxes to send over seas. The Vice-Presidents also work for 100% in each homeroom during the membership for Junior Red Cross. This year the Council held a drive for Hungarian Relief. They helped to raise fifty dollars. Near the end of the year the sewing classes made rag dolls for the hospital fun cart.

Miss McKeage is advisor for this council.

Journalism

The Northern Light Class put out the school paper which contained homeroom news, sports events, humor, and any other items of interest to the students. This class also planned and arranged North's first yearbook. Both the paper and the yearbook are called The Northern Light.

The Camera Club

The Camera Club is a new group organized this year to create interest of the students here at North in cameras and their work. The Club met on Wednesday of each week and many new and interesting points about cameras, developing, and picture-taking were discussed.

Near the end of the year the Club sponsored a photo contest in which the whole school took part. Prize winning pictures are published in this book.

Mr. Glynn was the advisor of the Club.

The Rock Club

The Rock Club was organized this year with Mr. Glynn as advisor. The members are: Richard Pinnell, Roger Pfeuffer, Douglas Peacock, Tom Lange, and Bob Ault. These boys have been interested in geology and have found many astounding specimens. They made a very fine display in the showcase. It contained Indian stone pipes, Arizona pottery, many different types of Indian spearpoints, and the oldest remains of a body ever found in Michigan. Some of the items date back as far as 2000 B. C.

Stamp Club

The Stamp Club is a group of students gathered together to find out more about stamps and what rare qualities some have. They meet every Wednesday noon in room 204 with Mr. Hayes, their sponsor. The officers are: President Glynn Hertz, Vice-president Ronald McCrea, Secretary Carol Munch, Treasurer William Braun.

Monitors

The Monitor squads are divided into three groups: Regular, Noon-Hall, and Morning. The Regular Monitors are to keep order in the halls before and after school and during the passing of classes during the day. Miss Arnold is in charge of the Regular Monitors.

The Morning Monitors have charge of opening the doors and keeping the halls cleared during the early part of the day. At noon the Noon-Hall Monitors take over and perform the same duties. Mr. Parr is advisor for the Morning Monitors and Mrs. Clark has the Noon-Hall group.

Douglas Peacock is captain of the Regular Monitors with lieutenants Judy Mahaffy, Bonnie McDermid, John Cline, John Creed, Letitia St. Pierre, Roger Pfeuffer, Richard Pinnell, Sue White, and Carolyn Gobble.

Co-captains of Noon-Hall Monitors are Lynne Hersem, and Mike Pohlman, while the Morning Monitors are headed by Captain Jerry Calkins and lieutenants Kenneth Hamlin and Russell Zwingman.

Elementary Student Council

The Elementary Student Council at North consists of representatives from each room who meet every other Friday to discuss the activities in their rooms. The officers for this year were: President, Bonnie Bearinger; Vice-president, Mike Iler; Secretary, Maruta Miluns; Captain of the Patrols, Jack York; Captain of the Monitors, Edna Werner; Red Cross Representatives, Susan Vogel, Vicki Suppes; Fountain Checker, Sandra Jones.

Elementary Monitors

The Elementary Monitors watch the halls and stairways so all the boys and girls may safely come and go. They help the kindergarten children and keep the fountains and halls clean.

Susan Vogel was captain the first semester and her lieutenants were Janice Chisholm and Janice Foale. Edna Werner was the captain for the second semester and Janice Chisholm and Vicki Suppes were her lieutenants.

The Monitors had several luncheons in Mrs. Barnoske's room during the year. Mrs. Barnoske is Monitor sponsor.

Elementary Junior Red Cross

Susan Vogel was the sixth grade representative and Vicki Suppes was the fifth grade representative to Junior Red Cross this year. They attended all of the meetings at headquarters and reported to the Elementary Student Council. At a Saturday Workshop they learned new art ideas for our Junior Red Cross activities.

The Juniors gave money for the Children's Fund, packed twenty gift boxes to be sent overseas and made many art objects such as tray mats, tray favors, party hats, and nut cups for local hospitals.

The Elementary Patrol

This year there were 35 members on our patrol. The Elementary Patrol members have taken over for the Junior High so our job is doubled.

We have had two captains during the school year. They were Tom Paccione and Jack York. We have had many fine lieutenants also.

The city council hired Mr. Ben Havens to help the patrol on Bond and Bristol because the traffic was so heavy. We feel this has been a great help since Officer Havens can stop traffic and let the children cross. The Patrol can never stop traffic.

During the cold weather when our job was really rough, the P.T.A. was kind enough to furnish us with hot chocolate in the mornings. Two different mothers came every morning and served us. It really tasted good and warmed us up so we were ready to go to our rooms and start working on our jobs.

Elementary Activities

Kindergarten– 136

We have had lots of fun working, playing, and becoming acquainted with boys and girls our own age. We have taken part in many group activities, and have worked on individual projects.

Our many experiences have prepared us for first grade.

Kindergarten and First Grade—117

The first graders have spent many happy moments learning to read, write, and work with numbers. We had enjoyable times building a store, a playhouse, church, greenhouse and other projects. We decided we had the most fun with our circus. We invited our parents and friends to see it. All the acts helped to make the circus good.

Science has been fun and interesting to us this year. We have had several animals visiting in our room which helped in our studies. Planting seeds and watching their growth was lots of fun. We have enjoyed working and playing with all our friends in our room and hope we have all profited in many ways.

First Grade—125

We had a busy and enjoyable year. In the fall we had a unit on pets. We brought our pets to school and went to see some pets. We had a pet show and wrote stories and poems about our pets.

At Christmas time we had a gift shop and made Christmas gifts. We made macaroni jewelry, clay candle holders, string boxes, and clay ash trays.

We made our own Easter bonnets. We used bits of veiling, a blossom or two, ribbons and bows and paper picnic plates. We had our pictures taken and had an Easter parade.

In May we entertained our mothers for Mothers' Day. We made our mothers a corsage, and had fun decorating napkins and paper plates. We had a program and served refreshments.

We planted seeds in milk cartons. Our morning glories grew very tall and we had green beans on our own bean plants. We took our plants home and planted them in the garden.

Second Grade– 218

We had the most fun this year with a post office and a cafeteria in our room. We learned many things from them. We presented a musical play for several rooms. We ended up the year with a puppet play.

Second and Third Grade—115

The second and third grade studied about Indians; made head bands and aprons, using Indian designs for decorations; sang Indian songs; learned Indian dances. Mrs. Bieling came to our room and helped us to make mats from reeds which she had soaked in water the way Indians do. We studied about the dairy and visited Hoff's Farm. When we studied about fall activities and the market, we made a trip to the city market.

We did science experiments to show evaporation, condensation, absorption, and how heat travels. We made clouds with cotton batting to show the three main types of clouds; cumulus, stratus, nimbus. We made the north sky to show The Big and The Little Dipper, and Polaris, the North Star. We also made the southern sky to show Orion.

Mr. Somerville's music pupils came into our room and talked to us about the different instruments of the band and orchestra. They played something on each instrument so we could hear each one alone.

We visited WSAM Radio Station and the East Side Post office during our study of communication.

Third Grade—212

The boys and girls enjoyed their study of Indians and pioneer life in America. This work was followed by Indian and pioneer life in Saginaw. After learning how Indians, pioneers and the early settlers in Saginaw traveled, we decided to study about transportation throughout the world. This work was divided into three units: "Transportation on Land," "Transportation on Water," and "Transportation in the Air." The children's interest hasn't lagged because there is always something new to learn. With the aid of films we have learned much about transportation. We are now planning a trip to the airport where we expect to learn more. The interest that has been stimulated, I am sure, will carry over into further reading, experimenting and learning.

Fourth Grade—208

Some of the things we will remember that happened to us this year are that we all received letters from Staff Sergeant Engel who is stationed in Labrador. He answered many questions for us about the life in the Arctic.

We had some exciting times with the $64,000 Question.

We visited the Planetarium and nature exhibits at Cranbrook Insititute after we had completed a unit on astronomy in our science class. We made scrapbooks about dinosaurs, jungle animals, astronomy, trees, and birds.

Fourth and Fifth Grades—217

Fifth grade has found long division and beginning fractions quite easy, while the fourth grade thinks multiplying by two numbers and dividing in long form is fun.

In many ways people all over the world are the same. The big differences are in their ways of living and working and this is determined by the type of region in which they live. The fourth graders have found it interesting to learn about these people. Fifth graders think they are well acquainted with the United States and their neighbors.

Dinosaurs not only roamed the earth long ago but appeared in our room this year. After reading and talking about so many different things in science and social studies it was the high light of the year when we went to Ann Arbor to see these things in the museum.

Sixth Grade—118

This year has been a very interesting year in Mrs. Campbell's sixth grade. In science we have studied about aviation. We also made a panorama to go with our study. We also learned about electricity and astronomy. Our social studies took us to South America, China, India and Europe. Mrs. Newberg, North's gym teacher, came into our room and gave us a talk on China. She showed us some articles that she brought back from there. We also made some Chinese masks out of papier-mache. We finished the school year by studying about Europe.

Fifth Grade—213

We entertained our parents and other rooms at Christmas time, and presented a play called "Toinette and the Elves."

We studied about folk tales of many lands and in the spring gave a radio program on "Tall Tales of America."
